

Dear Sir,

I strongly support TRAI's recommendation in motivating service providers not to de-activate sim cards due to non-usage. In all fairness, the service providers may charge a bit additional fees to keep the connection live for a longer period.

For NRIs like us, it is a major headache to keep changing numbers and sim cards every time we come to India.

We sincerely thank TRAI for this recommendation.

Regards
Rangan